Ramesh Bhatt

Co-Founder & Tech Lead

- > Project Management
- > Quality Control
- > Technical Advisor

Ramesh is a mixture of logical mind and a creative soul. Working as pre-press specialist, he decided to change his scope of interest and learn new things.

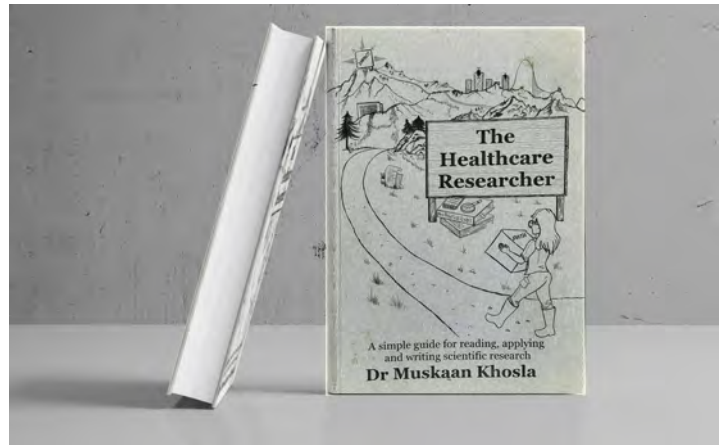

In Garuda, his skills are used in the fields of graphics and preparing publications to print. If there is an urgent need to change some files, he is able to react quickly so that the completion term and technical requirements of a printing house are fulfilled. Ramesh also takes care of packaging projects.

In addition, he is responsible for IT support, which is essential as far as communication with customers is concerned.

His free time passion is photography, and he is heavily invested in Nikon cameras.
